Canneries For Kentucky.

We are glad to see in our weekly exchanges notices of new canning establishments that have recently been established in many Kentucky towns.

But we have not nearly enough such concerns and their number should be multiplied many times over.

In Kentucky every year many million dollars worth of fruits and vegetables are left to rot, are entirely lost, which could be saved and marketed at a fine profit.

Kentucky pays many millions of dollars every year for goods canned in the North and West which can be supplied by home enterprise.

Kentucky ought never to have to buy at any point outside of her own borders a single can of tomatoes, corn, peaches, pears or any other kind of vegetable or fruit.

And train loads of such articles are imported into Kentucky every year from states which are no better producers of vegetables and fruit than Kentucky herself.

The canning concerns which are in operation in this state pay well and will pay in almost any section of the State if managed on business principles.

The people of Kentucky, those in the towns and those on the farms, should bestir themselves in this matter. By individual enterprise, or cooperative effort, the number of canneries in Kentucky could be easily doubled and even trebled—and it would pay handsomely to do it.

It does not require much capital to start a cannery which would save much of the surplus vegetables and fruits that now go to waste in and about every town in the state.

The weekly newspapers of the state can accomplish much good by agitating this subject and showing to the communities in which they are published the easy and profitable possibilities of the canning industry.—Jackson Hustler.

King's Station.

Blackberries are all the go now.

Several of our people attended the fair at Richmond last week.

N. Burgess, of Valley View, has moved into our quiet village.

Major C. F. Tharp made a business trip to our town last Saturday.

Married on the 18th inst. Benjamin Carroll and Maranda Farthing, Eld J. T. Turpin officiating.

Rev. J. T. Turpin left Friday for Mt. Sterling, Winchester and Lexington. He will be gone several days.

C. F. Tharp came very near being drowned last Sunday morning. He went in bathing and was taken with cramps, and went down three times, but was rescued by his brother and Mrs. Thos. Rice.

Protracted meeting will begin at Powell's Valley Baptist church the 4th Saturday in this month. The pastor will be assisted by Eld. J. G. Parson, Eastern Kentucky Evangelist. All invited to attend. "Sand Cutter."

Few roads, if any, in this section have had the extensive advertising that has been done by the "Henderson Route," and from all reports, they are reaping the benefit that is sure to follow judicious advertising. Mr. L. J. Irwin, the general passenger agent, has done a great deal to make his road popular, and the enforced additional equipment and new heavy rail attest the success with which he is meeting.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

MAYOR.

I am a candidate for Mayor of Clay City before the regular November election.

I am in favor of good schools, and a Board of Education to look after it and visit the school at least once a month and report to the Council. I am in favor of a new iron bridge where the old pontoon bridge now is, the town to furnish half the money and county the other. I favor the putting in of a water system for protection from fire, and am in favor of building a City Hall, and last, but not least, I am in favor of keeping the streets and sidewalks in good repair. B. LITTLEPAGE, M. D.

Hos Pettit was in town Thursday.

John Fitch is down with the chills.

Dr. J. E. Lemming was a Stanton visitor Friday.

Rev. R. A. Irvin filled his stand at Stanton Sunday.

Claude Hull, of Lawrenceburg, was in town Friday.

Attorney Jas. W. Lilly was a Stanton visitor Tuesday.

A Mountz, of Hardwick's Creek, was in town Tuesday.

It is still hot and dry. Crops are suffering greatly for rain.

John Bill Patton and several of his family are down with flux.

Dr. J. H. Evans, of Beattyville, was in the city Tuesday.

Geo. W. Douglas and wife, of near Levee, were here Monday.

John Chaslin and family are visiting in Louisville this week.

A sister of Mrs. T. Hood, of Ashland, is visiting her this week.

Jim Tom Neal, of Lexington, is here visiting his father, Bill Neal.

J. H. Eaton, who has been quite sick, we are glad to say is much better.

Mr. Fields and wife, of Lexington, were here Sunday visiting relatives.

Ant. Norton, of Stanton, our clever Circuit Clerk, was in the city Thursday.

Mrs. L. E. Hall and son, Henry, of Lexington, are in Clay City visiting friends.

Mrs. O. Gormley, of Lexington, was here Sunday visiting her mother, Mrs. Shattuck.

The Christian church will be finished shortly. Enough money has been subscribed to do so.

Monday was the hottest day we have had so far. Some places the thermometer registered 106.

Marie Clark, of color, wife of Dillard Clark, died at Lexington after undergoing a surgical operation.

Miss Josie Johnson came down Monday from Natural Bridge to attend the funeral of Miss Jennie Lowry.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Swope, of Missouri are here visiting the latter's sisters, Mesdames Noah Rose and A. M. Burgher.

The Flying Dutchman has quietly folded their tents and silently departed. They took at least $500 with them, and we are none the better off.

What about a street sprinkler for Clay City these dry times or an extension of the water main from the Company store to the upper end of our city? Let's talk it up for we need it badly, especially the water main.

Miss Jennie Lowry, daughter of Joe Lowry, died at Natural Bridge July 21 with consumption, aged about 17 years. The remains were brought here for burial. Funeral services were held at the Methodist church by Eld. A. Easter.

Rev. R. A. Irvin has been given the Pompey school this year. He was not an applicant for the school. This is one instance where the school sought the man. We seldom hear of the like, for as a rule there are five or six applicants for each school. The trustees of this school have made a wise selection. They have the interest of the children at heart, and they will be rewarded by having a good school taught them this year.

THE LATEST DRESS MATERIALS.

A very valuable feature of the August Delineator is that which illustrates by photographic process the latest dress materials, accompanying the illustrations with a running comment, so as to guide those who wish to have the fullest knowledge of materials before going shopping. This is one of the features of a practical character that makes The Delineator so highly esteemed by women. The same number also goes very fully into the subject of trimmings and other dainty accessories to dress.
